Delivery Mode and Total Volume of Learning

We offer a combined distance and workplace delivery mode for this course, which typically spans 36 study weeks over a 12-month period. Students have the flexibility to extend their study time to a maximum of two years. If this limit is exceeded, re-enrolment will be required.

This course is specifically designed for students who have completed a Certificate III in Individual Support (Disability) and are currently employed, either part-time or full-time, in the disability sector.

In addition to gaining practical skills through your work, you will dedicate a total of 665 hours to research, theoretical learning, and the completion of assignments and a work logbook. Out of these 665 nominal hours, up to 100 hours will be spent on structured self-study under the guidance of your trainer. The remaining hours will be allocated to independent self-study.

Assessment Method

Assessment of the theoretical component of the training program is competencybased in the form of written assignments, case studies and projects while the workplace component is monitored and assessed using work placement logbook and on-site visits by our assessors.

Course Completion

Upon successful completion of all 10 units of competency of this course, you will receive the Australian nationally recognised qualification of the CHC43121 Certificate IV in Disability Support which includes two documents, the Testamur and the Record of Results. A student who does not complete all required 10 units will be issued a Statement of Attainment showing all units of competency that he/she has successfully completed.

Pathways

The CHC43121 is a level 4 qualification in the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF). Therefore, it is mandatorily recognised by all AQF colleges. On successfully completion of this qualification, your next level of study is a diploma in community services sector such as CHC52021 Diploma of Community Servicess or CHC52121 Diploma of Community Development or CHC62015 Advanced Diploma of Community Sector Management.
